We especially appreciate your passion for public service and giving back to the community – key traits of an effective lawmaker. Your experiences protecting open space and creating recreational areas while serving on County Council will provide an invaluable perspective in Columbia as the state works to provide tools to protect the unique places of our state in the face of rapid and unchecked growth. We are excited to work with you to find pragmatic solutions that increase prosperity of our communities but also protect the natural resources that make them unique. We value your experiences with chemical-free lawn and landscaping approaches, your recognition that conservation is conservative, your passion for protecting ‘the little guy’, and your interest in finding solutions through collaboration and compromise.

A key part of our mission is to let South Carolina voters know where elected officials and candidates stand on protecting our air, land and water and on creating a sustainable energy future. We appreciate your recognition that investing in South Carolina’s natural resources is critical for our state’s economy.

When the General Assembly convenes for the January 2023 session, citizens of South Carolina will be depending on you to protect the air, land, and water that we all love. We value your willingness to work with us and consider our positions when making decisions on important conservation issues before the House.

You may use our endorsement in your campaign materials as well as on your website and social media pages. Working together, we can provide a clean and healthy South Carolina for future generations.

Sincerely,
